

Haliburton Rotary pledges $10,000

The Rotary Club of Haliburton has been asked to pledge at least $10,000.00 to the proposed Five Counties Children's Centre which is to be located in Peterborough.

Ed Meyer a member of the Peterborough Rotary Club and who is on the Five Counties Children's Centre executive along with Dr. Don Clark who is on the Medical Advisory Committee were in Haliburton last Thursday night to explain the way that funds will be raised to build the new centre and went on to say that when the building has been constructed that it will mean total care for crippled children.

The new centre is being sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Campbellford, Cobourg, Haliburton, Havelock, Lindsay, Minden, Peterborough and Port Hope.

For many years the nine

Rotary clubs involved in this project have made crippled children an ever increasing portion of their community action projects. In early 1972 it was determined that an effort should be made by these nine clubs to establish a Children's Centre in Peterborough servicing the Five County District. Excellent co-operation and participation was obtained from the Medical groups, the City of Peterborough and other Municipalities and Boards of Education.

On April 17, 1974, approval for funding was received from the Ontario Minister of Health and the arrangements for tender call for construction were commenced. Funds are required immediately in order for this most worthwhile project to be completed.

The initial phase of construction will consist of the Children's Centre proper plus the additional facility of a recreational swimming pool at an estimated total cost of $920,000.

The Children's Centre will cost $720,000 and the swimming pool will cost $200,000. Grants are available for the Centre in the amounts of $446,000 from the Ontario Ministry of Health and $112,000 from the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

The remaining amount of $162,000 for the centre and $200,000 for the swimming pool (which is not eligible for any grant) is to be raised within the Five County area.

This target amount of $362,000 will be raised by the nine Rotary Clubs in the Five Counties by means of a general canvass of Rotarians, prominent citizens, industry and the local municipalities.

Peterborough Rotary Club will raise $262,000 while the other eight clubs including Minden and Haliburton will have to raise $100,000.

Cam Botting drafted by NHL, WHA

Cam Botting son of Mr and Mrs Jim Botting of Eagle Lake who played hockey for the past two years with the Niagara Falls Flyers in the Southern Ontario Junior Hockey League and the World Hockey Association, was picked by the Atlanta Flames of the N.H.L. and the Edmonton Oilers of the W.H.A. It will be up to Cam as to what league he will join.

Cam played several years with the Haliburton Junior Huskies and was picked up by the Hamilton Red Wings who later sold him to the Niagara Falls Flyers.

Annual Spring Fly-In attracts record attendance

Sunday June 2 dawned bright and sunny for the Annual Spring Fly-In at Stanhope Airport.

Chairman Jim Csanig and his committee worked hard to come up with a varied and interesting programme for young and old alike.

Five parachute jumpers each made two jumps displaying their skill in manipulating their parachutes so as to land in a given area. The Haliburton Legion Pipe Band gave a short performance, and the Centennial Choir under the direction of Mr. Bill Gliddon thrilled the audience with their renditions of patriotic and old-time songs.

The Ministry of Natural Resources gave a display of waterbombing and fire-fighting which we are sure was well received by everyone. The highlight of the afternoon was the Carling Aerobatic Team's exhibition of aerobatics in close formation flying.

The Carling Team is the only full-time civilian aerobatic team in North America, and one of the four highly skilled pilots is a woman. The plane used by the team is a PITTS S-2A, and is specifically designed for aerobatic display work.

It is estimated that the crowd was approaching the two thousand mark on Sunday - one hundred and four aircraft registered, and over two hundred and twenty cars with spectators were admitted to the grounds. Many had to be turned away for lack of parking space. The beef barbeque proved to be as popular as ever, and more than three hundred meals were served.

The only problem with the beef was that it didn't feed

William Scott charges:

Government feeds the fires of inflation

"Extravagant government spending feeds the fires of inflation," William C. Scott told supporters who, Wednesday night, chose him to again contest Victoria-Haliburton riding in the upcoming federal election.

A crowd of between 800 and 900 people packed every corner of the Lindsay Collegiate to listen to Mr. Scott's acceptance speech.

Other speakers at the nomination meeting included Glen Hodgson MPP, Allan Lawrence MP, Dr. P.B. Rynard MP, Mrs Aileen Holt, Warden Stanley Smith of Victoria County, Dr. Jim Gillies, MP and riding association president Murray Agnew.

Describing the Liberal government as the largest, most wasteful government in history, Mr. Scott said inflation has reached its highest point under the present administration.

The rate of inflation was, he said, three per cent under the St. Laurent government, 1.4 per cent under Diefenbaker, 2.5 per cent under Pearson, climbing to 6.7 per cent in early Trudeau administration until now it has reached a staggering 10 per cent. "It is all the home work of Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau," Mr. Scott declared as he charged the democratic system of government he firmly believes in was being gradually eroded.

Saying that he believed in the parliamentary system of government, he declared "I have seen, in my time, the erosion of the parliamentary system."

Mr. Scott said the Prime Minister "has had his chance - he told us he was licking inflation - had it under control in 1972. It wasn't true and in 1972 we gave him a chance with a warning."

"The Canadian people deserve better government - government more responsive to the needs of the people - government which will encourage and promote private industry. We must prepare for the future...We want freedom without fear and we don't want all this promiscuousness," the candidate declared, adding: "We don't want our traditions devalued."

Mr. Scott cited examples of wasteful government spending such as the staggering increase in staff attendant upon the premier, now standing at around 100 people... "I don't know how he can keep track of all that staff," he quipped.

Among other things he grouped under the general heading of wasteful expenditures was the paying of $135,000 yearly to a contractor to care for $477,000 worth of tropical plants, "a great many of which are dead now"; $61,000 for re-decorating the centre block of the parliament buildings; installation of two chesterfields, one done in suede and worth $8,000 and another which Mr. Scott described as "probably being for rough work," worth $5,700.

"If people knew all about the reckless spending by this government, there would be a hanging on parliament hill," the candidate declared as he recalled Trudeau promises to put a freeze on bureaucracy.

Charging that this 1969 promise had not been carried out, Mr. Scott said the reverse had happened - there has been a startling increase in the staff of the bureaucracy which now stood at about 333,000 people.

"We must try to maintain the purchasing power of wages and control this vast bureaucracy," said Mr. Scott as he pointed out that this was going to take time.

Referring to the aim of a Stanfield administration, Mr. Scott said it would be to bring back stability, to provide a dedicated government comprised of people who would face the country's problems "square on - a government responsible to the people of Canada...inflation must be licked for you and for your children."

Haliburton boy killed

Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police have reported the death of a young Haliburton area boy involved in a car-bicycle collision on the evening of Monday, May 13.

Police report that Bradley

Thomas Burgess, 11, of RR 2, Haliburton, died at approximately 9 a.m. Monday, in Peterborough Civic Hospital where he had remained in critical condition under intensive care since the time of the accident.

Stedman Raiders trounce Gooderham 23-10

The Stedman Raiders made it three straight wins without a loss this season when they trounced hapless Gooderham 23-10 on Monday evening in Minden in senior softball action.

Tom Boice started on the mound for the Raiders but ran into a lot of trouble in the top of the second inning. After striking out the first batter, Tom then yielded seven straight walks to tie the game 4-4. With the bases loaded and just one out, coach Neil Burk brought in Tommy Lee and he retired the side and went on from there to post an eight hit victory, allowing just three runs. The surprising thing about this is Tommy Lee had never pitched in the senior league before. Tom has been an outstanding outfielder for five or six seasons. Looks like another fine surprise for the Raiders along with number one pitcher Rick Hartwicke.

Al Trepanier led the Raider offence with four hits in five at bats, scored four runs and had two RBI's. Bob Austin continued his torrid RBI hitting with five more in this game, bringing his three game league leading total to 18. Al McMullen also had a hot bat for the Raiders, four hits in six trips to the plate, scored twice and drove in four runs.

Tommy Lee (1-0) picked up the win while Bob Kane (0-2) suffered the defeat. Wes Sawyer and Murray McGuinness umpired the game.

"VASEY'S MIDGETS GETTING STRONGER"

The Haliburton Huskies had their hands full on Tuesday evening in Haliburton, as Vasey's Midgets came up with a spirited display of hustling softball, only to succumb in the seventh inning on three errors to lose 6-2. The more experienced Huskies led by only one run, 3-2, going into the bottom of the seventh.

Scotty Larue led the Huskie attack with three hits in four at bats, scoring once and knocking in a run. Roger Bain also came through with an RBI as well as getting three hits.

Mark Schell (1-1) evened his season record at one win and a loss in going the distance for the Huskies. The Midgets Tim Bain (0-1) suffered the loss.

Cliff Burke and Wes Sawyer were the officials.

"DOMINION HOTEL WEST GUILFORD TIE"

The Minden fairground was the site of the finest Senior softball game of this young season on Wednesday evening.

The Dominion Hotel scored in the bottom of the sixth inning on a sharp single up the middle by Gene Newell that brought John Welch home from second, to tie the game 7-7 with the West Guilford Redmen.

The Redmen opened the scoring in the second, when Craig Stamp doubled and scored on Floyd Henry's double. Mike Jackson got this one back in the last of the second when Royce Miller doubled to center scoring Mike who had singled and stole second.

Dominion went ahead for the first time in the game in the third on Murry McGuinness second round tripper of the season, a solo blast. This was Murrays sixth homer in his last six games dating back to the 1973 play-offs. West Guilford regained the lead in the fourth 3-2, but Dave Dollo gave Dominion what appeared to be an insurmountable lead in the bottom of this inning with a grand slam homer over the left-center field fence.

However, West Guilford never quit, in the top of the sixth George Nichols slammed a double to left scoring two and then Craig Stamp ripped a two-run homer putting them up 7-6. This led to John Welch's tying run in the last of the inning.

Jack Snell (1-01) allowed sixteen hits, two walks and seven strikeouts in nine innings for Dominion. Wade Stamp (1-1-1) gave up twelve hits, on walk and struck out four in five and two-thirds innings, then got relief help from brother Craig, who gave up three hits, two walks and struck out two in three and a third innings for West Guilford. Neil Burk and Bob Austin did a fine job of umpiring the game.

In other games played last week, Vasey's Midgets edged Gooderham 8-4, Dominion Hotel downed West Guilford 7-2 despite Craig Stamps third homer of the season for the Redmen. Haliburton Huskies dropped Vasey's Midgets 7-1.

C.O.S.S.A. TRACK AND FIELD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Haliburton Senior Second-

dary sent a contingent of eighteen athletes to Napanee District Senior Secondary last week to participate in the 1974 C.O.S.S.A. Track and Field Championships. Although they only picked up 16 points in this tough meet, they did gain valuable experience.

Five of the eighteen athletes figured in the 16 points.

Brenda Ripley led the Haliburton team with eight points, as a result of her tremendous second place finish in the Midget Long Jump. Brenda just missed out on a trip to the All-Ontario Championships, when she was nipped by just over an inch in this event, with a leap of 15' 3/4". A fantastic effort Brenda, congratulations and I'm sure the people of Haliburton County are going to here more about you in the next couple of years, as you are only a midget at the present time.

The other four athletes each picked up two points with fifth place finishes. In midget, Darrell Dancey placed fifth with a leap of 5'4" in the high jump. Joe Roberts picked up two points as a result of a 131'6" toss in the discus.

In junior competition, Kirk Hewitt ran fifth in the 100 meter hurdles with a rather slow time of 17.1. Steve Roberts, a senior, tossed the discus 100' 9".

There were five records set in this meet. The most spectacular was in midget boys, when Richard Porter of Dumbarton raised the high jump record to, get this, 6 feet 3 inches. This was a new Canadian school boy record. Richard sounds like a sure bet to make our Canadian National Team in the very near future.

Another Midget record fell when A. Thompson sent the discus on a 162' flight. Two junior Records were set, Thomas A Stewart's, A. Siebrooke ran a great 1:58.6 in the 800 meters and D. Colby of McLaughlin sped to a 4:04.9 in the 1500 meters. The only girl to set a record was M. Dewitt in the open 1500 Meters with a time of 5:04.6.

Sheila Sharpless graduated from the University of Toronto, May 27 with a B. Sc. degree in Physical Therapy. Sheila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sharpless and formerly attended Gelert Public School and Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Centennial Corner

FROM THE TOWNSHIP OF CARDIFF

Cardiff Township, originally surveyed in 1862, is located in the South-eastern portion of Haliburton County. Until 1878, Cardiff Township was part of the United Townships of Glamorgan, Monmouth and Cardiff. Thomas McInroy and William Ogilvie were two of the first Reeves to serve on Council.

Settlers to Cardiff Township followed the Burleigh Road from the south and the Monck Road from the east and west. Settlements such as Highland Grove prospered as a result of the completion of the I.B. and O. Railway during the early part of this century. Farming and lumbering were major economic activities. During the 1950's the uranium industry came to Cardiff Township with the establishment of the Dyno and Bicroft Mines.

Cardiff Township is abundant in lakes such as Eel's, Paudash, Deer and Monck which offer a variety of recreation both winter and summer.

The Council for Centennial Year 1974 is as follows: Reeve: Malcolm McGillivray, Councillors: W. James Ross, Louis Ruthven, Mac Peters, John Stapley.

Obituaries

Mildred Prentice

Mildred Mary Prentice (nee Redner) died May 11, in Minden.

She was the only daughter of Tom and Mary Redner of Maple Lake. Her school days were spent in the school-room at Maple Lake.

In 1938 she married Duncan Prentice of Pren-tuskoka, where they lived for several years. Two children were born to them: Betty Anne, who predeceased her in 1939, and a son Tom, who resides in Minden.

In 1944 they moved to Minden, where she resided until her death.

Millie was a friend to many people always willing to help. For many years, severe illness held her back from things she would have enjoyed, but in spite of her suffering, she took an active part in the work of the Women's Institute, and the Minden United Church Women, whenever her health allowed. Many of us will miss her daily chat from her bedside telephone.

Service was from the John Welch Parlours, by Rev. Bushell, with interment in Minden Cemetery.

Elsie Pritchard

Haliburton County lost one of its older residents on Thursday, May 30th, 1974 when Elsie B. Pritchard passed away at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton.

The deceased was the beloved wife of Lawrence Pritchard of Minden and she was in her 77th year.

The late Mrs. Pritchard rested at the Funeral Chapel of John Welch & Son Ltd, Minden until Saturday, June 1 when service was held at 10:30 a.m. Interment was made at Minden Cemetery.

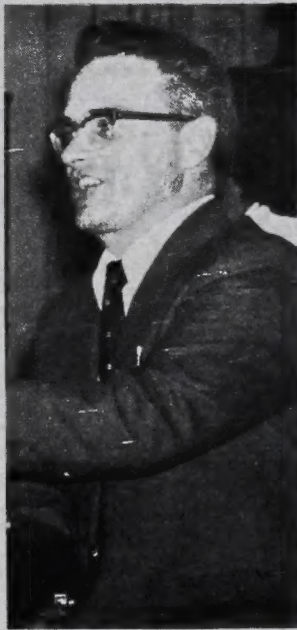

Wilford transferred to bank in Napanee

We received word this week that Mr. Derry Wilford who has been manager of the Bank of Montreal at their Haliburton branch for the past three years has been transferred to the Bank of Montreal at Napanee. Mr. Wilford will be moving to Napanee near the end of June. A replacement for Haliburton has not at this time been announced.

During his stay in Haliburton Mr. Wilford was quite active in the community being a member of the Rotary club where for the past year he has served as Sgt-At-Arms, he was a very ardent curler and was president of the Haliburton Curling Club and treasurer of the local branch for CNIB. He loved outdoor sports especially, snowmobiling, boating and skiing. We might also mention that he was a member of the famous Haliburton Rotary Club hockey team.

Mr. Wilford will be missed in the community and we wish him, his wife and family the best of luck as they move to their new home at Napanee.

Nursing home is approved

We have just been informed that final approval has been given to Extencare for the construction of a 50-bed nursing home in the village of Haliburton subject to each phase being passed by the Ministry of Health. We also understand that local help will be used wherever possible.

The following is the proposal submitted by the Haliburton County Social Planning Council to the Ministry of Health in February of this year.

The Haliburton County Social Planning Council draws its membership from representatives of the various communities within the County. These people have no pecuniary, political or parochial interest, within the County, in establishing a Nursing Home. We represent the entire County in the sense that our members come from community service and religious organizations; social service groups and educational, municipal and health systems. Our interest is in providing urgently needed services for all the residents of the County.

We feel our survey establishes the basis for need of a Nursing Home facility of at least 50 beds (preferable 60) in the area of Haliburton Village.

Our reasons for a Haliburton

Village location are:

(a) A survey of the distribution of population in Haliburton County indicates that Haliburton Village is the centre of population for the County, as well as being its geographic centre. (See brochure and map)

(b) There are four doctors in Haliburton Village and two doctors in Minden Village, all within easy access of Haliburton Village (these are the only doctors within the County). Other facilities within the village include - Red Cross Outpost Hospital, dentist, optometrist, chiropractor. The Municipality of Dysart et al maintains an excellent ambulance service, with two vehicles, which is centered in Haliburton Village.

(c) Haliburton Village is able to provide needed services, such as sewers, and the Municipality has committed itself to assisting the builder in locating a suitable site at a fair price.

Size: - 50 - 60 Beds

We feel a facility for at least 50 beds is essential to provide for the ever increasing needs in our County. Some points to support this proposal are:

(a) Standard Assessment System Census Report, October 1973, gives the following statistics: Age 60 and over - 21.6 percent of our population (of 9,375 at that date) Age 65 and over - 14.04 percent. Age 70 and over - 9.03 percent. Age 70 and over - 15.70 percent, when summer population is included.

We feel it is valid to use the Age 60 and Over figure because (1) most of the people who are newly settling in Haliburton County are coming in at about retirement age, leaving the high cost environment of the cities. In many cases, upon retirement, these people decide to live here in their winterized cottages. Also, many older "summer" residents live a larger portion of the year at their cottages then they do at their permanent addresses in the cities. If these people become ill or unable to care for themselves, they would desire to use our facilities because of their proximity.

(2) this survey is now almost a year old, and the figures will be further outdated by the time a nursing home becomes operative.

(b) In spite of the fact that Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home has been approved for 38 extended care beds, they are not, in fact, providing a nursing home facility. Since they do not accept people under 65 (without special permission from your Ministry) nor accept people who require nursing home care initially, they are actually looking after their own residents as their age and condition warrants nursing care. Even in cases of their own residents, they are not permitted to look after persons with such problems as a need for oxygen, indwelling catheters, etc. The past 8 years' experience has shown that the natural progression of the residents of Hyland Crest is filling what beds are under extended care coverage. Because there are some residents who are receiving nursing care at Hyland Crest, it discourages others who are not ill from entering the Home for the Aged.

There are only two ten bed Red Cross Outpost Hospitals in the County and they limit the length of stay to 30 days. In the majority of cases, this necessitates the elderly sick and ailing to seek available beds outside the area and as a result there is a constant waiting list. Also, since our residents do not have the right of residency to use these outside facilities, it is natural that these Nursing Homes satisfy the needs of their own people first.

Economics:-Private Nursing Home Operator

We have been in contact with three nursing home operators since our meeting in December. When Medex was contacted, we found that they have now become part of the Extencare operation. Mr. MacKay, President of Extencare (Canada) Limited, has given us written confirmation that his company would be willing to build a 60 bed Nursing Home in Haliburton Village. He also stated verbally that if no more than 50 beds could be approved, he would still be willing to give this his consideration. Mr. Rummey, owner of Bel-Air Nursing Home in Cannington, has given verbal confirmation of his interest in establishing a nursing home in Haliburton Village of at least 50 beds. We feel that a 50 - 60 bed facility is the minimum size to meet our ever growing needs and as pointed out last November by the Ministry of Health, it is the minimum operation that is viable.

OPP report

Ten motor vehicle accidents totalling over $10,000. in damages were reported over the weekend. There were only five minor injuries, however, and one fatality.

In a single vehicle accident on Highway 60 near the Oxtongue Lake Post Office, twenty-four year old Robert D. Huffman of R.R. # 9 Peterborough lost his life when his Kawasaki motorcycle travelled onto the shoulder of the road and then into the ditch and struck a large rock. Damage to the vehicle is estimated to be $200.00.

This mishap was investigated by Constable Bob Pearson of the Minden Detachment.

Letters to the editor

To the editor:

This was picked up from a magazine and I thought it was good enough to pass on and maybe someone would get a smile out of it.

WHEN MY SISTER GETS MARRIED

When my sister gets married,
I'm getting her brass bed,
With the new mattress,
And her white triple dresser,
With the stand-up mirror,
And her built in book case,
And her pink net curtains,
(In fact I'm getting her whole room, and my little sister is getting mine).
And I won't have to put up with her moving all my stuff,
anymore or throwing her dirty socks in a pile
on the floor.

When my brother goes to college,
I'm getting his electric train set,
His mecano set, his wood burning set,
And his ham radio set,

When my mother goes to the asylum.
(Where she says we kids'll send her)
I'm getting her long-line bra.
(Which is away too big, but will be fun to wear anyway),
And all her Avon make up, and her fast-set
hair curlers,
And her alligator-skin tote bag, and her turquoise mohair stole.

When my father goes to Hell,
(As my mother says he's sure to)
I'm getting his tape recorder,
His portable color T.V.
His binoculars and his oil painting set.

It's going to be lonely in this house.
But BOY will I ever have a lot of stuff I don't have now.

O, McLearn.

Centennial edition was a smashing success

The Haliburton County Echo Centennial Edition which was included in the May 23rd issue of our paper was a big hit with our subscribers and with all those who purchased them through our newsdealers.

The response to our Centennial Edition was very gratifying and it made us feel very happy and proud considering the work that had to be put into getting an edition such as this ready for printing.

We were also proud to be part of the Haliburton County Day at Ontario Place when with the help of the Haliburton Boy Scouts and Cubs we carried the message of the County's past 100 years to the people of Ontario when we handed out nearly 3000 copies of our Centennial Edition.

We are well aware of the fact that thousands have already read the Centennial issue but we also know that there are still thousands who will want to pick up a copy as a keepsake of Haliburton County's first 100 years of progress.

At the present time we are distributing copies to various business places throughout Haliburton County and we hope that you will take the opportunity to buy a copy before they are all sold. The price for this Centennial Edition is 35 cents and may we remind you that it is well worth the money. Just ask your friends who have had the opportunity of reading it.

Once again we here at the Haliburton County Echo would like to thank all those who contributed material for this special issue and to those who have helped us distribute 10,000 copies across the county. Without your help the task would have been a big one. So again we would like to say thanks a million.

Stanley Cup champion is congratulated

Haliburton County was honoured at its day at Ontario Place with the appearance of Rick MacLeish, scoring star of the world champion Stanley Cup winners the Philadelphia Flyers. We had the opportunity to speak with Rick and congratulate him on his great performance both through the regular schedule and in the play-offs.

Larry Perrott, secretary-manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce wasted little time in pinning a Haliburton County badge on the Cannington star and he wore it around the grounds for the remainder of the day.

The Flyers player following his visit to Ontario Place was in Haliburton on Sunday looking over the town and talking to old friends.

When he played Junior hockey with Lindsay he played several games against the Haliburton Junior Huskies.

We join with the many hockey fans from Haliburton County in wishing Rick the best of luck in his hockey career.

Keeping it clean

Civilization...

We tend to think of pollution -- air contamination, degraded water quality and waste disposal problems -- as products of the industrial revolution.

Are they really the price we pay for technological advance?

Are they really the result of a modern society based in conspicuous consumption?

I wonder.

Last year an autopsy was performed on an Egyptian mummy. Directing the operation at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington was Dr. T. Aidan Cockburn. The subject was a 35-year-old man when he died 2,600 years ago.

The autopsy showed premature hardening of the arteries and varicose veins. In addition, carbon deposits were found in the lung tissues.

These could only be attributed to a lifetime spent in homes without chimneys, lit and heated by smoky oil lamps.

Another mummy the team examined touched off a storm of scientific debate on a non-environmental issue. They found cotton swabbing inside the wrapping, and at that time, cotton was only known to exist in India and Central America. The earliest cotton found in Western culture previously was from a Roman grave in 200 A.D. The basic argument was whether the cotton was cultivated in Egypt or imported from India.

However, when they started the actual autopsy, they found that the man had suffered from silicosis. This is a disease that has been found among coal miners who inhale rock dust for long periods of time.

I'M A GENIUS
AT NOT SAVING

BILL SMILEY

Well, were you alert enough to fill your gas tank and pick up half a dozen five-gallon jerrycans of the stuff before the price soared?

Were you smart enough to have your furnace-oil tank filled before the stuff turned to black gold?

That's funny. Neither was I. In fact, my wife informed me, the day after gasoline prices headed for the moon, that we were riding on a pint and a prayer.

"Dummy!," I stated. "Dummy yourself," she retorted. "Why didn't you tell me the price was going up?"

"Twice-dummy," I responded coolly. "Why don't you read the ruddy newspapers?"

"Thrice-dummy," was her unoriginal answer. "Because you're always hogging them, and you never talk to me, and I'm alone all day and never see anyone, and you come home and bury your big fat nose in the newspapers, and I'm sick and tired of it."

"Bull-oney!," I snorted, and we were off on one of those half-hour deals so popular with married couples, and from which I always emerge looking like Archie Bunker.

And there wasn't a bit of truth in her tirade. I don't hog the papers. I let her have the classified ads section and the sports section, when I've finished with it. She's not home alone all day. She has the cats. She sees people — the postman and the garbage men — when they're not on strike. And I don't have a big, fat nose. It's just big.

I'm digressing. But I often do that when I get talking about my helpmeet, my other half, my chicadee, my lambie, the Joan to my Darby, that broad who is driving me squirrely with talk about spring cleaning.

What I really began to discuss was my native ability, born knack, or sheer genius, at missing chances to save money. There aren't many such chances, in these parlous times, but every time there is one, I seem to be out to lunch.

Show me a hydro bill, and I'll show you that it's four days past the deadline for the discount. By the way, that's one sweet racket. Hydro sends you a bill, with a certain "discount" if it is paid within a certain date. That means that Hydro can get along quite nicely if everyone pays on time. Right? Therefore, the "discount" is no such thing. It's a penalty. Robbers.

Show me an income tax return and I'll show you that I should have been paying, and have not been, quarterly, in advance. So I'm penalized.

Show me a full-page advertisement featuring a big sale, 50 per cent off everything, and I'll show you that the paper is ten days old, and the sale ended last Saturday.

Show me a big jump in the price of beef or lettuce, and I'll show you a craving for red meat and salad.

And my wife is just the same. Show her six books of wall-paper samples, — all good, sturdy, durable, colorful stuff, and she will unerringly pick the one that's twice the price of all the others.

My swim suit invariably springs a leak in July, before the August sales begin. My winter boots spring the same thing in January, before the sales begin.

If I plunge for five shares of a sure-thing stock, a war starts, or Nixon says something stupid again, and there's a stock market slump.

I don't consider this to be a malignant thing. I don't really believe, though it has crossed my mind, that God has it in for me. Maybe it's Old Debbil. At any rate, it happens too often to be a coincidence, and I'm getting sick of it, by gum.

A typical was the first Olympic Sweepstake. I forgot to get a ticket. You'd think a guy's friends would remind him. But oh, no. Not them. Too greedy. And I've a sneaking notion I'd have won the million bucks. Boy, would I show my so-called friends, if I won that. They wouldn't see me for gold-dust.

But there is one little area in which my wife and I are infallible, when it comes to saving money. Every year, we pay our house taxes in January. I think we save about eight dollars. That will show them, we tell each other solemnly.

Back in the days when most of this country's horse-power still belonged to the horses, my Uncle Joe had a rural mail route. Total length of this route was, I should guess, between twelve and fifteen miles. In the spring and summer His Majesty's mail travelled by horse and buggy: when the snow allowed or demanded runners, it went by horse and cutter. Our Uncle was a slow and kindly man and he had two horses for the job. Dolly would carry the mail one day, Danny the next. Only if the roads were very difficult would the two be hitched as a team.

If I remember correctly Uncle Joe got the mail contract back in the days when Sir Robert Borden was Prime Minister, a dividend that may have come from the fact that he was incurably Tory. And he was still serving his route six days a week come hail or high water fifteen years later. And when he finally surrendered the route to someone who was younger (and who voted the other way) he was still relying on the same pair of horses.

Which wouldn't be much of a story really if it weren't for the fact that one of Uncle Joe's horses was balky.

Now it may be difficult to explain the full meaning of a balky horse to city people and the Pepsi generation because it is almost impossible for these who have never seen any but the most mannerly and civilized of horses to believe that so noble an animal can, on occasion, be capable of being so stubborn and unyielding that even the British coal miner could learn from him. You can whip him until your arm gives out, you can hitch him to another horse or try to pull him with a tractor. You can try pushing if you have anything to push with and don't mind risking getting your head kicked off. But with a horse which has its balkiness down to a science, there is simply nothing that will induce him to get going again. Except, perhaps, to light a fire under him, and that will only move him ahead far enough to set fire to the vehicle behind him.

Well Dolly would sometimes balk, yet my uncle survived fifteen years of partnership with her, and he had remarkably little to say against her. What was his secret?

I happened to have been with him one day out on the route when Dolly suddenly decided she had had enough and all four legs went ramrod stiff. Joe waited for a minute, as if he hadn't noticed, and then getting out of the buggy he began talking to Dolly as if he had every sympathy in the world for her trouble, whatever it was. He picked up one of her front feet, looked at the bottom of it very studiously, took out his jack-knife and picked away at it as if he had found a stone stuck there, gave her shoe a smart tap or two with a rock, eased the foot back to earth again and said. "There! It's all right now, Dolly!" And Dolly took him at his word and was ready to shove off as soon as Uncle Joe clicked to her.

And when I asked him how come, he merely laughed. "Only thing I am expert at, come to think of it."

Which is a rather tragic ending for my uncle's biography really, because his expertise never made him anything but master of a certain balky horse. But think of what he could have become had he been living today when there are any number of ways to make your entire living by pretending, and most of them as respectable as they are lucrative. He could have been a sportswriter, for instance, and made a glamorous living just pretending that he knew more than the managers and coaches about what was wrong with the Maple Leafs. He could have become a management consultant, an income tax consultant, an investment consultant. Or he might have found a ready market amongst those who lead millions to believe that they have a special hot line to God. He could have been a psychiatrist, or set himself up as an expert in some department of education. He could have become a government salaried agricultural 'expert'. He might even have become Leader of the Opposition.

Which reminds me that a critic is a guy who pretends that he's pretty smart with the answers too, and that's what I'm sounding like right now, so maybe I'd better lay off all those other pretenders before somebody discovers that I'm one myself.

Be a good neighbour... call before you dig.

At long last, spring has finally arrived. And now you can get out and start working around the house. Maybe it's a small garden. Or even a large pool. But if it means digging, dig this: One of our underground cables might be located right where you want to dig. If you were to break one, you could easily knock out telephone service for blocks around. This could seriously disrupt service for hospitals, doctors, the police or the fire department. And that's something a good neighbour wouldn't want to do.

So, before you start digging, put in a call to the Telephone Company. We know where the cables are located and can save you a lot of trouble. This service is free. And part of our "good neighbour" policy.

ROAD RUNNING A DYING SPORT

During the snowmobiling season just past, 27 persons died in Ontario as a result of high speed operation of snow vehicles on public roads. The Select Committee, in its Final Report has recommended that a road ban be imposed and that it be made effective July 1, 1974.

I heartily endorse that recommendation, and I expect the Government will comply with it and will bring in legislation to that effect immediately. I would, however, hope that municipalities might retain some autonomy over country roads so that certain sections may be designated as snowmobile routes where they serve as connecting links for existing snowmobile trails. At least until alternative routes can be established. And I urge municipalities, the Government, and snowmobile clubs to co-operate fully in bringing an end to the needless slaughter on our roads.

LAKES TAKE A HEAVY TOLL

The statistics for last winter showed that 13 persons died from snowmobiling on unsafe ice. There were many more near drownings. Which should prove that lakes can never be judged completely safe. The one other Ontario fatality occurred also on ice when a snowmobiler struck his head on the underside of a low bridge.

Ontario trails were fatality free.

GOVERNMENT TO IMPLEMENT TRAILS PROGRAM

Regarding the development of trail systems in Ontario, as recommended by the Select Committee, Mr Frederick J. Boyer, Executive Director Division of Tourism, Ministry of Industry and Tourism had this to say:

"Snowmobiling has become an important factor in the development of winter business in many tourist areas and the establishment of properly planned, groomed and supervised trails is a key element in this development. For these reasons, the Ministry of Industry and Tourism is encouraged by many of the recommendations of the May 1973 Interim Report of the Select Committee on Motorized Snow Vehicles and All Terrain Vehicles. The Committee recommended that the Ontario Government take the initiative in the development and maintenance of trails on Crown Land and in co-operation with municipal authorities and with private persons on a lease basis.

"In response to the demand for linear recreational facilities, the Park Planning Branch of the Ministry of Natural Resources has been developing a comprehensive Ontario trails program. This program will involve the development of trails on Crown Lands, acquisition of easements or other limited interests in land, acquisition of abandoned railway and utility lines, and abandoned logging and mining roads for the development and maintenance of recreational trails. We have been assured that the Quebec trails program has been thoroughly investigated as a method of implementing Ontario's trails program. The Ministry of Natural Resources' proposal will be ready for final approval soon...."

The Government has not been entirely idle. It has taken its own sweet time, but the program, when finally implemented, may well be a better one for the waiting. Certainly it is encouraging that the Quebec method is being considered.

But the Quebec method depends to a very great extent on the desire and the ability of snowmobilers to help themselves. I am not at all sure that Ontario snowmobilers are ready to do their part.

SNOWMOBILE CLUBS INVOLVED

The Quebec Government, in establishing a registration fee of $5.50 did not overtax its snowmobilers as Ontario has done, to the point of killing off all incentive to work for themselves. Snowmobile clubs have grown and prospered, and now share in the distribution of 80 percent of the registration revenue for their trail projects. Club membership in Quebec represents 85 percent of all snowmobile owners. The figure for Ontario is about five percent.

A member of the Select Committee, Mr. George Nixon, MPP suggested at the recent OFSC convention that a substantial portion of the Ontario registration revenue should be made available for clubs' trail projects. Under Quebec registration revenue should be made available for clubs' trail projects. Under Quebec qualification rules it is very doubtful if any Ontario club can qualify for assistance. Realizing this but anticipating an up-surge of interest upon the announcement of a provincial program and an energetic attempt to meet whatever qualifications may be imposed, the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs has formally applied for funds to distribute amongst its member clubs. It will not be a large amount, in comparison with Quebec subsidies, but considering that only five percent of us are organized any amount will be more than we deserve.

Do you, the snowmobilers of Haliburton County, want to see your trails program restricted to Crown Lands and such other rights-of-way as the Ministry of Natural Resources may acquire? I do not. Such trails will be welcomed, of course, but as the extent of our system they would be totally inadequate. It is a safe bet that snowmobile clubs in the regions around us will get on the ball. I don't think we can afford not to!

If this year's Centennial celebration has proven anything, it is that Haliburton County has begun to shake off its reputation of backward thinking and reluctance to accept progress. It can now, if its people so desire, go forward with confidence. Since the snowmobile has become, as Mr Boyer has said, an important factor in the development of winter business we cannot afford to overlook any opportunity to exploit and develop our snowmobile industry. With your support to give us the strength to qualify for Government support the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association will get the job started.

Prune and clip garden

Most gardeners prune and clip for a number of reasons according to John Bradshaw.

Gardeners prune and clip to remove dead, damaged or diseased parts; to cut away weak spindly growth and so produce a more vigorous plant; and to have shapely-looking plants and hedges, according to the guide.

"Don't be afraid to prune, after all, you learn by your mistakes, and if you follow this basic guide, you won't make many of those," Mr. Bradshaw points out.

"Start with a good set of pruning shears. Keep them clean, sharp and in alignment. Wipe them clean after use, and put a spot of oil on them occasionally. Blunt shears can produce torn, ragged, bruising cuts which lead to diseased plants.

"Always make your cut about 1/4" above a bud and the bud should be facing out from the center of the growth. This keeps the plant shape open.

"All cut stems over one inch in diameter should be protected with tree-wound paint.

"An unpruned hedge bolts skyward, and soon becomes full of holes. If you have holes in the hedge they will never fill in. The solution is to cut all the hedge down to six inches in early spring before the buds start to swell and open.

"This hedge, and all young hedges should be pruned or clipped wider at the bottom than at the top. Keep the top low, and all side shoots trimmed until the hedge thickens up.

"One season of neglected feeding or pruning can lead to thin patchy hedges. Then you'll have to cut them back to six inches and start all over again.

"Early bloomers like Forsythia and Almond should be pruned immediately after blooming. Summer bloomers should be pruned in April before the buds start to swell and open.

"Prune all flowering shrubs to preserve the natural shape. Remove or shorten any straight sucker-like branches. Preserve all vigorous curving branches.

"Evergreens don't need much pruning - except to preserve the natural shape.

PIGGYBACK POLICE ANTENNA

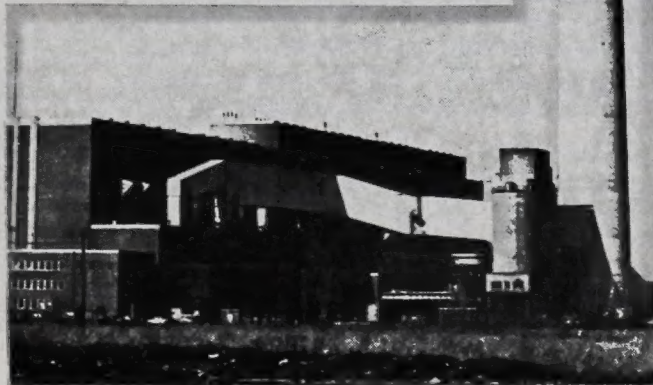

Fast response by Metropolitan Toronto Police to citizen calls for assistance will soon have an Ontario Hydro involvement.

The 700-foot stack at Hydro's R. L. Hearn generating station on the Toronto waterfront has become host to a police communications antenna.

The aluminum 188-foot antenna being installed near the top of the stack - one of six locations which will be part of the Metro Police communications network - replaces one now in use atop the Toronto Dominion Centre.

Three men (enlarged box) are dwarfed by the stack as they work on installation.

Special Visitor to the Lindsay District Office

by R. W. Lewies
On Thursday, May 16, at approximately 9 P.M. Lindsay District Office received a rather special and unexpected guest. District Office staff are not generally on hand at that time of night but on this occasion, it happened, there was an evening meeting.
A gentleman had found a loon out on the Highway unable to walk or fly and thinking the bird to be injured had picked it up to bring in to us. While he held

Rotary Club Project

The Haliburton Rotary Club is busy again on a community-minded project that brings the addition of two all-weather tennis courts to the Rotary Beach area.

The estimated budget will be $13,000.00 and it includes improvements to the existing changing rooms. A Rotary committee of Glen Blair, John Beachli, Dr. John Postlethwaite along with director Art Ward will be working closely with the Dysart Recreation Committee towards an overall plan for Rotary Beach, to help beautify this area.

It is hoped that the courts will be ready for play this summer and they will be open for everyone to use.

A junior Tennis Program is also planned along with suitable instruction. This is another example of Rotary Club money being put to work for the good of the whole area.

the loon it was busily engaged with trying to bore a hole in the gentleman's arm with its spearlike beak. He seemed truly relieved when someone carefully but firmly took the bird by the bill and around the body and placed it in a live trap. The next day the loon was examined, found injury free, and released on Goose Bay, Sturgeon Lake.

Many people don't know that loons will land on wet pavement, mistaking it for a water surface. A loon needs water to become air borne and because its feet are placed well back on its body, it tends to overbalance forward. This makes it extremely clumsy on land and may give the appearance of injury.

The episode described above encourages one of our staff to wax poetic. Because of the loons plaintive cry and with apologies to Jack

London, the poem has been tentatively entitled:

THE CALL OF THE WIND
A loon a bit looney
Or so one might think
When out on the water
They nearly do sink
When out of the land
They stumble and fall
On feet that will barely
Function at all
They will light on wet

pavement
Instead of the lake
And to would be rescuers
Offence they may take
The moral of this story
Is still quite obscure
We hope with our ending
To make it quite clear
Look after the bills
Before they look after you
Or you may find yourself

Minden O.P.P. Report

There were no charges laid in an accident which occurred on Saturday afternoon on Highway 121 at the Drag Lake Lodge Road intersection. According to the OPP, seventeen-year-old David Espie of Haliburton was eastbound on Highway 121 when he met two cars, one of which pulled out to pass the other.

Espe, to avoid collision, took evasive action and landed in the south ditch. There was $150.00 damage to Espie's Honda motorcycle.

In an accident at the Junction of Camp Timberlane and Haliburton Scout Reserve roads on Saturday evening, a car driven by Royce Cox, 21, of Toronto met a car coming over a hill, and pulled onto the south shoulder. Unable to get back on the road, the Cox vehicle landed in the ditch, and sustained $150.00 damage to the front end, according to the OPP.

It seems that some people just can't seem to keep their hands off other people's property. They just seem to have to smash everything in sight when it comes to the matter of private or public property.

It appears that over the holiday weekend just past that windows were broken at the Victoria street school in Haliburton and some other damage was done to some of the equipment owned by Ecology who are putting in the sanitary sewer system in Haliburton.

Bob Morrow of Bolenders Limited who have equipment in Haliburton told us that some of their equipment had also been damaged.

Minden OPP report an accident at 11:45 a.m. Tuesday, May 21, involving vehicles driven by Wallace McKelvey, 54, of Minden and George Feuerstein, 69, of Toronto.

Police report the two vehicles came into a head-on collision when meeting at the crest of a hill on the Scotch Line Road causing $1,000 to the McKelvey car and $500 to the Feurenstein truck.

McKelvey was reported to have received cuts and bruises as did a passenger Rolene McKelvey, also of Minden, and both parties were treated at Minden Red Cross Hospital.

Constable R. J. Wood investigated.

Construction Safety Certificates received by students

Construction Safety Association of Ontario certificates have been awarded to 20 Sir Sandford Fleming College students in two and three-year construction engineering technician and civil engineering technology programs following completion of a comprehensive 15-hour safety course.

Instructor Fritz Heilingbrunner said the course was designed to give students a general awareness of accident prevention and construction safety, along with enough specific knowledge to enable them to supervise on-the-job safety practices.

He noted this was important because many of the graduates would eventually become construction superintendents, a role which includes overall responsibility for safety on the job site.

Rigging and hoisting, which is considered one of the most potentially dangerous aspects of construction, was one topic covered in detail, he said.

Civil engineering technology students receiving certificates were: Bryan C. Anderson, of Peterborough; David L. Carswell, Marmora; David Chan, Hong Kong; William E. Cockburn, Peterborough; David L. Henry R. Draper, Dunsford; Edward F. Feth, Simcoe; Terrance A. McGregor, Havelock; Peter Perry, Port Hope; Sheldon Reddy, Norwood; and Douglas P. Walker, Peterborough.

Construction engineering technicians included John G. Behan, Peterborough; Leo J. Condon, Lakefield; Paul W. Dunford, Peterborough;

Robert E. Gagne, Cobourg; Thomas A. Gallagher, Perth; Wayne R. Johnston, Cobourg; John G. Letky, Asbestos, Quebec; Gordon B. Scheffee, Haliburton; Paul R. Whyte, L'Amable; and Brian P. Withers, Cavan.

Haliburton

Elementary School trip

On Friday May 17 the two Grade Four classes of Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School ventured forth on their annual school trip.

Leaving Haliburton they arrived in Peterborough in time to watch the Shriner's Circus which is presented yearly by the Kinsmen Club of Peterborough.

We would like to thank Dr. Harry Good, Mr. Harold Kennedy, Mr. Ron Curry, Mr. Vance English and Mr. Lester Walling for providing the free passes to the circus.

Combining enjoyment with learning we visited Lang Pioneer Village at Keene. This provided an excellent opportunity for children to observe how our pioneer forefathers lived a hundred years ago.

After supper the children had time to wander through the Filtration Plant Zoo. It was a tired but happy group that returned home that evening.

Some memories of Grandfather

a serial by
Eileen Caines

Grandfather's people came to Canada from England, before he was born. Knowing nothing of England, and not interested in knowing, Grandfather was wholly and completely "Canuk". Canada was his birthright, and don't ever forget it!

Grandfather Howe—those words bring to mind a happy, fun loving, generous, kind hearted man. A man who enjoyed life, and made all in his company enjoy it also.

As a child I adored him, always he had time to take me on his knee, tell a story, (and never the same one). All the time his feet would be tapping, his black eyes twinkling. Laughter and adventure a part of him, natural as eating and breathing.

Grandmother Howe I never knew, she died while still a young woman. Her people came from Amsterdam, Holland, and were of German Dutch descent. Her name was Minnie Schroter.

Grandfather was left with four sons, and two daughters. The boys, Bert, Roy, Clarence, and Don. The girls, Violet and Millie. Don was a baby, ten months old. After Mother (Millie) married, Grandpa lived alone and "batched it". Mother taking Don, to live with her.

At that time lumbering was the big industry, in this part of Ont., "The Highlands of Haliburton". Many times as a child I heard the names, "Mickel and Dymert", "Malloy and Byrant".

Grandpa "ran camp", as foreman, for one of these lumber companies. Hundreds of men, of all nationalities were employed. Some could not write, and had to "make their mark", on any legal document.

Grandpa told of one such chap, going to the post office and requesting his mail. When asked his name, the man replied, "My name, you will find it on the envelope!" This chap was not making a joke, he simply did not realize anyone would first have to know his name before you could read it. If you could read, you should know the name, when you saw the envelope. Simple as that!

When Grandpa was a young man, there were no cars in the town of Haliburton, nor sidewalks of cement, as we know them today. The "main street" was narrow, and had a few short lengths of board-walk. All travelling was done by horse, or train.

The lifeblood of the town, in this era, was of course the railway. Everything depended on the trains, coming in or going out. If you had anything to ship out, from cattle, horses, pigs, to a christmas parcel, it all went by train.

My Mother remembers, when she was a child, of her parents and the entire family, boarding the train at Haliburton to visit her Father's people at Kinmount.

In Grandfather's day, lumbering was a far cry from what it is today. There were no chain saws, no trucks, bulldozers, etc. Manual labour did it all, from building a road to cutting a tree, with axe and cross cut saw.

When the trees were cut, they were skidded out of the bush by horse, and piled one at a time. The logs were then loaded on carts or sleigh and hauled to the lake, from where they were driven by men, "river jacks", balancing on floating logs, down rivers and lakes to the mills, sometimes many miles distant.

The men would eat and sleep on the water, in floating "cookhouse" and bunks. Mother has a picture of one such cookhouse, logs, and men. One of the men is Grandpa, the other a cook, Harry McBrine. Life was not easy in those days, but still they seemed for the most part a happy go lucky crew. If the old Gull River could speak, it would have many a tale to tell, of those long ago days.

Since many of the men could not read or write, Grandpa, being "boss", found it fell to his lot to read any mail that came for these lads, and do their writing for them.

He told of one lad receiving a letter from his Mother, in Ireland, asking if he could possibly send her some money, or she would have to go to the "poorhouse". This is the letter he dictated Grandpa to write in answer: Me dere olde Mither

Having gotten yere liter, tellin me ye will be a goin to the poorhouse, can ye not hold on till spring, and I'll be a goin with ye.

Grandfather swore this to be the truth, and the very words sent off to Ireland, but I confess finding it hard to believe.

In those times, to make up for their hard lot in life, there was a lot of drinking and merry making. Never a Saturday night went by without a dance being held. Music and song being supplied by anyone with a bit of talent.

Grandpa was a great one for this, he loved to sing and dance. He and his partner most always won the prize for the best dancers in the crowd. He never changed, nor seemed to grow old.

Even when he was over seventy he was still considered to be the best at doing all the old waltz's, chatice, jigs and reels. Always at any gathering the crowd would insist he sing the old songs: "The dear Italian Girl," "Baggage coach ahead", "Letter edged in Black", "Foreman Young Munroe", "Only a bunch of Violets", "Wild Colonial Boy" and many, many others.

There were three main "boarding houses" as they were called on the main street of Haliburton. "Mal-lord's", "The Lucas House" and "Lilac Lodge".

The bars or hotels all sold whiskey, at a "stand up" bar—men only! The men for the most part a rough and ready crew. Many are the stories of fights, and devil-may-care escapades, I have heard Grandpa tell, of those early days.

To hear Grandpa tell a story was an adventure in itself, you were right there, and could see it happening.

The "Twelvth of July" was a great day, and celebrated with all ceremony possible, the whole community attending. Entire families from the eldest to babes in arms would arrive.

If you lived a distance away, from where the big day was being held, you came prepared to stay overnight, knowing someone would be bound to "put you up".

Basket socials were very popular, and a great source of fun. The ladies competing as to who could make the prettiest basket, and fill it with the most appetizing food. These baskets were really a work of art, covered with colored tissue paper, and decorated with paper flowers, rosettes, long streamers, etc.

At the end of the evenings fun, the food baskets were auctioned off, going to the highest bidder, and the lady whose basket brought the most money, was very proud indeed. Of course the gentleman who bought the basket was privileged to eat supper with the lady who brought it. As the men were not supposed to know whose basket was whose, an awful lot of fun and conniving went on. Needless to say a lot of bidding went on the wrong basket, and a lot of fellows ate supper with an elderly lady, when they had other visions in mind, while spending their hard earned money.

Dad tells me he made the mistake of trusting his future father-in-law to tell him which was Millie's basket. To his great surprise it turned out to belong to a lady who had nothing in common with Millie.

Ladies Auxiliary

Euchre Banquet

Fifty-three people sat down for a lovely beef and Yorkshire pudding at the legion served by the Lady's Auxiliary.

Julie Jacobs scored an 83 to take the high for the ladies. Marie Ciszek scored 78 for second high.

The girls received beautiful lamps from the Carling Brewery Co.

Third high went to June Tripp with a 77. June received $10.00 for that prize with a $5.00 for the most lone hands (53) of the year, for the ladies.

Men's high went to Art Lee with a 72, and Cec Hall with a 70. Both of them received lamps from the same brewery. Third high went to Bruce McKay with a 67. He received $5.00.

George Ciszek won $5.00 for 36 lone hands of the year. He also won a Carling O'Keefe Mug for 5 lone hands of the evening. Les Roberts (Legion Pres.) played in a women's place and won a silver plate for 4 lone hands. Compliments of O'Keefe's.

The low hands of the night went to Marion Hall and Pat Hucal. (cash awards)

Sixteen door prizes were called out during the evening, some to Ray Fetterly, Dave Bishop, Iren McAree, Ray Jenkins, Veronica Howe, Bill Deacon, Dot Burke and others.

Ray Jenkins thanked the players for attending so faithfully for the 26 weeks.

Oscar Stewart thanked Carling's O'Keefe and Gilbey's for their donations of prizes.

The Treasurer's report

read by Ray Jenkins included the profit made from the Shuffleboard Tournament which was turned over towards the cost of dinners for five ladies who attended the banquet. The balance went towards prizes.

Marie Jenkins handled the shuffleboard tournament. Thanks to Gerald Barry, manager of the OL Barn, for the free dinners to many of the shuffleboard winners during their tournament.

Marie Ciszek and "Cec" Hall agreed to run the Euchre games this coming season. Ray reminded the players, that in order to have a successful banquet full participation was needed. Out of the eighty-four people that played during the 26 weeks; only 44 qualified (having 5 weeks in) to attend the free dinner and a chance to win beautiful prizes.

It is expected that many more will support it in the coming year. Twenty-five dollars of the euchre club profit, was donated to Retarded Childrens' Fund.

Ontario Safety League Tips

Don't carry extra gasoline

Motorists who store extra gasoline in their cars are courting a fiery accident, states the Ontario Safety League. It's like playing with dynamite! This summer, two safety experts in Winnipeg placed a safety can full of gasoline in the trunk of a car. Leaving the engine running, they stood at a safe distance and waited. Within 20 minutes the entire back end of the car exploded.

The safety can is designed to breathe and as the trunk became warmer the gas generated enough pressure to force vapors out past the cap. These soon reached explosive proportions which needed only some ignition source such as a short in the electrical system or a defect in the tail light circuit for detonation.

Granted, with winter temperatures, car trunks will not heat up at the rate of the Winnipeg experiment. Nor will there be such a rapid build-up of vapors. However, a ruptured gas container in the trunk could turn even a minor collision into the most serious conflagration.

With the current fuel crisis, don't try to "beat those hoarders" by stockpiling gas in your vehicle or at home. More frequent refueling is the solution.

This added warning for Canadians travelling south of the boarder: it is against the law in a number of States to carry spare cans of gasoline in your car.

TODAY'S CHILD

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

BY HELEN ALLEN

With that eager smile, Gerry has dark eyes, brown slightly curly hair with reddish highlights and medium complexion featuring an endearing sprinkle of freckles. You'd think a 10-year-old with a smile like that would be a happy, carefree youngster but Gerry has been affected by some unhappy times. Because of an unsettled period in his life he has been in a residential treatment centre. Now he is ready to leave.

Understandably, it will likely take Gerry a little time to adjust to family living and to form a close relationship. He really wants a mother and father so is anxious to try. Parents with warm, understanding and patience will find Gerry a challenging, rewarding and lovable son.

Alert and intelligent, Gerry is at least average in intelligence though not working up to his potential. He is in Grade 3 where his major difficulty is in reading.

Gerry loves the outdoors and especially enjoys camping, tobogganing and swimming. He is an enthusiastic Cub who gets on well with other children but seems to relish adult company.

Gerry needs parents with warmth and patience plus the ability to establish rules and stick to them calmly. Preferably there will be no other children at home, certainly none younger than Gerry.

To inquire about adopting Gerry, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

TODAY'S HEALTH

There are ways to cope with your anxieties

by David Woods

Anxiety, psychiatrists say, is a response to stress. Its more obvious signs are sweating, shaking, a pounding heartbeat or a dry mouth. But it can also come disguised as pain or physical exhaustion.

Anxiety can even show up unconsciously: Abe Lincoln is said to have dreamed vividly of the circumstances of his assassination.

If anxiety can be defined as a state of apprehension or uneasiness, it's obvious that most of us suffer from it from time to time. Getting anxious before taking an exam or giving a speech is quite natural, and may even serve to key us up quite appropriately for the occasion.

There are other, less obvious forms. For example, some people suffer from seemingly irrational fears of certain places or objects. These fears may sometimes be subconsciously associated with some childhood experience. This type of anxiety usually needs professional psychiatric help in tracing the root of the problem and dealing with it.

Job problems, money difficulties, personal relationships and sexual performance can all trigger anxiety.

In certain forms of transient anxiety, says psychiatrist Dr. John Armstrong of Toronto's North York General Hospital, alcohol or the minor tranquilizers may do some good. The problem, however, is that it's too easy to become reliant on either — and then they may become a problem as well.

There's some agreement in medical circles that one of the best ways to cope with anxiety is communication. Find someone to talk to about the problem, someone you feel at ease with and whom you trust. That person doesn't necessarily have to be a doctor. It might be a good friend, a social worker, teacher or clergyman.

By the same token, some forms of anxiety can be prevented by social interaction, by taking part in group activities, says Dr. Armstrong. But he emphasizes that the 'joining' process should be enjoyable. No sense in opting for the local tennis club if you don't like sports, or latching on to a political group if you can't stand politics.

In general, people in good physical health are less prone to anxiety states. So another preventive measure is to engage in an exercise program. Here again, though, the process should be fun: the tense executive who plays golf to 'relax' won't succeed if he's always keyed up to beat last week's score.

Anxiety is a universal condition that, in many cases, can be alleviated by talking it out — or sweating it out. More serious, continuing forms of anxiety — and especially those for which the cause is unknown — require proper medical advice.

Don't know if this is news or not—a friend reported that two Canada Geese have been visiting them the past week or so. Their cat goes to the shore and looks at them and the geese disappear, then when the cat is gone, the geese come back. Perhaps they will stay for the summer and re-join their flock for the flight south next fall.

Grand Jury

Report and Recommendations

TO HIS HONOUR JUDGE
RUSSELL C. HONEY:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR:

We, the Grand Jury, empanelled for the General Sessions of the Peace for the County of Victoria, have inspected the following Public Buildings and beg to submit the following report and recommendations:

COUNTY COURT HOUSE
LINDSAY:

1. It is obvious that there is not sufficient room in this building for all the activities which take place within its walls, but it is understood that expansions are to be made in the near future.

2. The Jury recommends that an endeavour be made to accommodate waiting witnesses other than in the corridor.

3. The benches in the corridors should be provided with cushioned pads to make the seating more comfortable.

4. The ladies' washroom should be up-dated, or at the very least, re-decorated.

5. Serious consideration should be given to the possibility of sound proofing the Council Room since the members of the Grand Jury were able to overhear the conversation of those occupying the room.

PROVINCIAL JAIL
LINDSAY

1. This building appeared to be adequate for its purpose and was clean and reasonably bright.

2. Consideration should be given to allowing prisoners a longer period of time outside in the exercise area, one hour per day being considered too short for the mental and physical health of a person. Two hours is suggested.

3. The Jury further recommends that consideration be given to having a part-time recreation officer to set up a programme of sport activities.

4. Consideration should be given to insulating all the pipes in the kitchen area and basement corridors.

5. All inmates spoken to indicated that they had no complaints concerning staff, and the menu appeared very adequate.

VICTORIA MANOR
LINDSAY

1. This is a very well-run operation and every consideration is given to the residents according to their various needs.

2. We, the Jury, suggest the reduction of the speed limit for motorized vehicles using the main road past the Home property to 30 m.p.h. This is a built-up area and comes within the County limits and for the safety of not only those residents who take walks along this pavement, but for children and indeed, other pedestrians, the speed limit should be reduced to 30 m.p.h., in our opinion.

3. The Jury further recommends that centre hand railings be installed the full length of the stairway in the old wing.

KAWARTHA LAKES SCHOOL - LINDSAY

1. We, the Grand Jury found the school to be extremely clean and maintained in a very exceptional manner.

2. We found our two (2) guides, Eloise and Kathy, to be extremely gracious and very knowledgeable on their surroundings.

3. Mr. Canon, the Superintendent, was most courteous and informative, and indicated his deep gratitude to the Community of Lindsay for its ready acceptance of the School.

N.D.P. Nomination Convention

Candidate addresses meeting

Text of address to the Nomination Convention of the New Democratic Party delivered May 26th 1974 by F. Maurice Windatt

Pierre Trudeau says he will be running flat out during this election campaign and you know he may very well do just that. With Stanfield standing still there is a lot of arable countryside left for the New Democratic Party to cultivate. The two parties will tell you again as they have for the past 100 years that a new day will dawn if we will elect them just one more time. It has not happened yet and we can not expect it to happen this time.

As I travelled through Minden, Dorset, Haliburton, Kinmount area last Wednesday no tears were being shed because of the defeat of the Liberal Government, along with their bankrupt budget.

Weep maybe because there was nothing in the budget to cushion the wave of inflation for pensioners and those on fixed incomes. Weep maybe for a budget that does nothing for the low wage earner and Lord knows there are many such in this riding of Victoria and Haliburton. The 1961 Census of Canada shows wage earners in some areas of this riding receiving 60 percent less than the Provincial average. I am sure this has changed little since. Weep maybe because the Government's only answer to inflation is higher interest rates which can only push the cost of goods and services still higher. The promised $50 reduction in income taxes, 98 cents per week, would not cover the current increase in the cost of gasoline or fuel oil. We can wait four months to have the sales tax removed from clothing, when the next Government is formed.

Stanfield, the ice man, would freeze wages, and have the full cooperation of every employer in the country. His over all price freeze, to be effective, would require a bureaucracy of a magnitude few can envisage. In this part of the country he would be freezing wages at a low level and prices at a high level and we all know who would suffer as a consequence.

The New Democratic Party, through a prices control board, would apply selective controls on basic commodities and establish a reasonable rate of profit for Corporations. It is not the farmer, the service station operator, the small business man who is doing the gouging, but the large corporations, many of whom are multinational, who have a strangle hold on our main resources. All we want to do is end the price piracy.

The Liberals in power did nothing to curb the every increasing profits of the corporate elite. In fact with the help of the Tories they reduced the corporate tax from 49 percent to 40 percent. These are the friends of the old line parties, these are the big contributors to their campaign chests.

The Government was thrown out of office because it repeatedly rejected any suggestion that something useful might be done about inflation by using a flexible system of price controls. Then when the Steel Company of Canada announced its recent price increases Trudeau, presumes to do what he said could not be done. He demands that the Company justify the price increase, without a policy or mechanism to determine what if any price increase is justified.

It was the Liberal Government who forced the election by bringing in a budget that they knew the opposition could not support. They could see that inflation was running rampant and they had better have an election now before it got any worse. Then they will try to tell you this is an election which nobody wanted. A slick manoeuvre, indeed, except that it will not work. The electorate are not as gullible as Pierre believes them to be.

The Liberals once called themselves the party of reform. They don't do that any more and rightly so. In fact they have become more conservative than the Conservatives.

Just a final word or two and I'll conclude. I just want to say that people should not feel they inherited their political views. You do no disservice to your forebears if you cast your vote differently than they. Over the years times and conditions have changed. Political parties have changed. The Liberal and Tory parties which they may have supported are not the same parties now. Vote for what you want no matter the label. I suggest many more in this area will this time vote for the New Democratic Party whose slogan for this election campaign is "PEOPLE MATTER MORE" and we firmly believe this to so.

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al

We have examined the 1973 financial statements of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al which are listed on the attached index. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Townships of Dysart et al as at December 31, 1973, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The overall league champs with the most points at the end of the year went to Lynda Morrison and her stalwart bowlers of, Jean Barry, Alma Stewart, Ev Stata, Wendy Kirkpatrick and Keigh Sisson to win the Ross Stamp Award.

The most improved (and surprised) bowler was Fran Woods who received the most improved award. She bettered her average from 134 to 165 in the last 26 weeks.

The hidden score winner of the last day of bowling, went to Ethel Gainforth who was only 25 from the score selected by Muriel Medley.

Dot Burke (The Gal who heard a list of scores before she received her trophy) received her trophy graciously from Ray Jenkins. The Achievement Award.

The bowlers and their guests retired to the dance floor, where they heard records and tapes supplied by Eileen Pripps and Bev. Pettes. Ray Jenkins played the piano for spot dances and novelty dances.

The bar tender was Arnold Fairey who received a dollar for his work.

Bud and Muriel Medley;

Vi Smith; Marie and Ray Jenkins thanked all the bowlers for their personal gifts. Everyone won a prize of some sort. All the bowlers received a liquor set of decanter and five glasses. Stan Parish was the life of the party. A total of $16.20 was given for spot dance prizes during the evening. The new executive is Fran Woods (Pres) Eileen Pripps (Sec) and Caryl Titus (treas)

Gems of Truth

TRUTH ABOUT THE HOLY SPIRIT

Biblical truth revealed in the Scriptures is always progressive in its unfolding. Thus truth concerning the Holy Spirit must be understood in accord with the time or age He was operating in.

Since the Old Testament gives a different view of His work it is important to distinguish between this and the New Testament account of His actions among man. Two things in particular stand out in reference to the Old Testament teaching about the Holy Spirit.

In the first place He is seen to be a person just as much as God the Son was a person. He is not simply an influence. He was active in sharing the work of creation as revealed in Genesis 1:2, Job 26:13, 33:4, Psalm 104:30.

Again the Holy Spirit is shown as exerting direct power upon men to accomplish certain specific purposes. In Genesis 6:3, He is revealed as striving with men, enduing with special skill, Exodus 28:3, 31:3, or giving extraordinary physical strength, Judges 14:6, also in general giving wisdom and ability to the special servants of God. In all this He acted in free sovereignty coming upon certain people and for certain purposes and for a certain period of time and then leaving them again.

In the New Testament the Holy Spirit is seen as having a distinct relation to the Lord Jesus Christ. From the very day Jesus was conceived by Him until His departure from Olivet and the Promise of being sent to the believers, the Spirit of God was active continually. The day of Pentecost marks Him as being the fulfillment of the promise of Jesus to send another Comforter when He leaves this world, John 16:7. From this day on the Holy Spirit is the constant companion of God's true children and is received by all who trust Jesus as their Saviour and Lord. Such indwelt ones are the true Church and are known as His Bride who will be with Him always in the ages to come.

SCRIPTURE MEDITATION: "For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body". 1 Corinthians 12:13 (a)
FOOD FOR THOUGHT: Pentecost was a great day in that it marked the birthday of the Church.

FADER - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Verle, who passed away May 29, 1968. He left us quietly, His thoughts unknown; But he left us a memory We are proud to own. So treasure him, Lord, In your garden of rest, For when on earth He was one of the best. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughter Elaine, son-in-law Frank, granddaughters Shannon and Kathy.

Provincial Court

Drunken driver fined

Harold P. Wright, of Kinmount, chose the wrong time to be driving on Highway 121 in Somerville Township after having imbibed freely of an alcoholic beverage. A provincial policeman was travelling the highway at the same time and going in the opposite direction. Court was told the officer had to swerve out of Wright's way to avoid a collision when the Wright vehicle entered the officer's lane. Breathalyzer readings of 2.7 and 2.9 were recorded and Judge George Inrig imposed a fine of $300.

Ryan J. Ashley, of RR 1 Minden, was fined $35 and costs in absentia when he was found guilty of having liquor in a place other than his residence. His brother, John of Rexdale, charged with a similar offense, was fined $70 in absentia. Police evidence was to the effect that Ryan Ashley co-operated well with the officer during his investigation whereas John didn't and had to be persuaded by his brother to part with the ale which was in the process of being seized. An order of confiscation was also made.

Pleading guilty to three charges of break. enter and theft in Stanhope Township, Haliburton County, Andrew MacDonald was given a suspended sentence, placed on two year's probation and an order of restitution made. After hearing character testimony from the accused's minister, plus other evidence to indicate MacDonald's actions were entirely out of character and attributable in part to a temporary telling bout with booze, Judge Collins concurred with an appeal for court mercy. Noting that the young man's parents were in court in support of him, the judge said "it is strange, but it is very rare for parents to come to court - I don't know why..." He said that in Peterborough he made it a practice to send people convicted of breaking into summer cottages to jail for 30 days..."and I'll tell you why: because police cannot adequately patrol summer property." Judge Collins also expressed the confidence of the court that the accused, with the help available to him would straighten out his problems.
